U.S.-SOUTH AMERICAN AUTO ROAD PLANNED

The Automobile Club of Southern California is responsible for a plan to develop an automobile route connecting the highly developed road system of the United States with the Central and South American countries, enabling the tourist and business interests to establish direct contacts.

The development of such a route will make it possible for landlubbers to escape the seven day ocean voyage back to the States--provided they fulfill their present contract, and six or seven like it.

The world's largest land plane, the latest product of Anthony Fokker, took the air on September 14th, and attained a speed of nearly 160 miles an hour. The first of five to be built for the Universal Airlines is built to carry 30 passengers and a crew of four. The plane weighs 13,800 pounds empty and has a wing spread of 99 feet. It can develop a total of 2100 horsepower with its four motors and can be throttled down to a landing speed of 47 miles per hour. In addition to passengers, it will also carry freight up to about three tons.

The United States and Great Britain have agreed to call a disarmament conference of the five powers for early December contingent to the acquiescence of France and Italy. This disarmament question should be settled before long if they have enough conferences Figures made public on September 13th, show that Germany has borrowed $1,990,001,000.00 from the United States since the Dawos plan went into effect.

ATHLETIC ASSOCIATION ORGANIZED WITH ELECTED EXECUTIVE COUNCIL

At a meeting in the Pan Am Mess Hall Tuesday night, forty men entered into the organization of an Athletic Association and elected four of the seven members of the proposed Executive Council.

About ten minutes to eight, Dr. Holland opened the meeting by fully outlining to those present the tentative plans proposed by a group of fellows who had previously discussed the matter with him in an unofficial capacity. After some discussion, the plans were approved and those present proceeded to the election of an Athletic Council.

The Pan American employees elected "Cluck" Clague President, J. D. Scott, Jr., Treasurer, and Wash McDonald and Jake Porter members. The first three were elected unanimously; the fourth was elected in a close contest with F. G. Steer and Jake Walsko.

It had previously been decided that the Lago employees present would elect the Vice-President, the Secretary and one member at this meeting; also that the employees of Corporations and Contractors doing business within the Concession should elect Delegates-at-large at this time. However, due to the lack of sufficient representation at the meet it was regularly moved, seconded and ordered that the Lago employees, et al, should separately elect their representatives between the date of the Mess Meeting and the first Council meeting to be called by the President.

At this time, Mr. Clague took the Chair and outlined his views on the organization, stressing the very commendable thought that the Council belongs to the Association, that its duty shall be to put over what the Association wants, and that there is a world of work to be done and that to accomplish the desired re-

PERSISTENCY WINS

It is said that Helen Wills has played tennis four afternoons each week for the last ten years. As a reward for her persistent training, she holds major tournament records that give her the throne as the champion of all amateur women tennis players.

We imagine that Miss Wills had no particular aptitude for tennis when she first took up the racquet sport, but by steady practice she passed through the stages of novice, local champion and national champion to receive the crown of international champion.

The emphasis usually is upon her successes. We call attention to the means by which she climbed the champion heights.

Most of us aspire to be "king of the heap" in our own chosen line. Too often we are prone to reach the summit in one leap. We see another reach the peak and forthwith over look the thousands of steps which carried this man up the long grade. We envy him his position but we hesitate at the foot of the tedious climb.

Its steady, consistent, everyday effort that puts the miles behind you on the road-way to success. It is the persistent effort that gives you strength for the paramount effort.

The acid test of the climber is that man's persistency.

In this connection an old poem, the author of which is unknown, comes to mind.

THE MAN WHO WINS

The man who wins is an average man,
 Not built on any particular plan;
 Not blessed with any particular luck,

 But steady and earnest and full of pluck

When asked a question he does not guess,

He knows and he answers, "No"
 or "Yes."

When given a job, the rest can't do.

He buckles down till he puts it through.

So he works and he waits until one fine day

There's a better job with bigger pay

And the man who shirked whenever they could

Are blessed by this man whose work made good

For the man who wins is the man who works,

Who neither labor nor trouble shirk-
 Who uses his hands, his head,

his eyes,
 For the man who wins is the man

WHO TRIES.

COURTEOUS TREATMENT DRAWS DIVIDENDS IN APPRECIATION AND GOOD WILL

Some time ago we editorially called attention to the fact that the treatment any individual of a corporation accorded those with whom he came in contact was an advertisement of that corporation which the individual represents.

Recently one of the members of our camp, who is connected with the Company only indirectly, had this fact brought strikingly to their attention. They were returning to Aruba via Jacksonville, after a vacation in the States. Mr. Shelton of the New York Office, Mr. Blankfield of the Mexican Petroleum Company's Sales Department in Jacksonville and Mr. Farquharson of the Lago Oil & Transport Co. all combined to give every attention and service possible to make the trip easy and enjoyable. It wasn't ordinary courtesy they extended; it was treatment which comes only when individuals are anxious to be of courteous service. Naturally, the opinion that this person has of our Company and the men representing it is very high after this experience. This example points to the tone of business relations which the Company and its representatives carry on. This kind of advertising pays.

Right in line with this kind of advertising which strengthens the goodwill the outsider has for our Company, comes the kind of treatment that the Company is giving its employees. Step by step living conditions are being bettered. Many forward moving steps have been taken in a short space of time. Many more, in fact, than any of us dreamed would be possible in constructing a refinery of this size.

We have it on the authority of many persons, who have lived in other construction camps, that the things which the Company is doing daily for its employees far surpasses the efforts of other companies engaged in like business endeavor.

Its the same old adage - Don't let the ant hill obstruct the view of the mountain.

IN MEMORIAM

With deepest regret we chronicle the passing into the Great Beyond of Robert Nye, Pan American employee, who died Wednesday, September 18th.

A splendid specimen of a man was Bob, straightforward in everything, a man exceedingly well liked by everyone with whom he came in contact, and a man that any of us would be proud to call our friend.

We extend our heartfelt sympathy to his wife and son, his mother and father, and other relatives, and his host of friends here and in Whiting.

"with love, John" costs real money. If you will advise the folks at home that your cable address is "John Jones, Panref, Aruba" it will save them some money in wiring birthday greetings, congratulations on promotions, etc.

If we had all the money that has been spent on "Mr.", superfluous initials and "Pan American Petroleum & Transport Company," we wouldn't be here writing this.

ATHLETIC COUNCIL TO MEET

The first meeting of the Executive Council of the Athletic Association will be held next Tuesday evening, September 24th, at No. 2 Bachelor Quarters.

JUST A SUGGESTION

It has been noted that a good many ladies and children have had the misfortune to be riding on the bus during the rush hour at noon and in the evening.

This is not only inconvenient and uncomfortable for them, but increases the crowded condition at those times when the men are going to lunch or home in the evening, and it is suggested that, for the benefit of everybody, the families of employees attempt to arrange their schedule in such a way that they will not be caught in the jam.

It's the same old quip under new circumstances -- "Go early and avoid the rush."

"AS WE GET IT"

We are very glad to welcome to Pan-Aruba Mr. J. A. Carroll and family, who are taking a brief vacation in Aruba. Mr. Carroll is Comptroller of the Pan American Petroleum & Transport Company. He is well remembered by many Standard Oil-ers from Casper, who knew Mr. Carroll at the time Standard of Indiana took over the Midwest Refining Company. We hope that Aruba's sea-breeze proves a welcome relief from New York's sultry spell, and that our guests have an enjoyable vacation.

Wisconsin with all its lakes, proved no match in competition with Aruba and its sea, especially when the latter domiciled a husband. Mrs. Herbert Watson of the Kellogg Company has returned to Aruba after several months vacation spent in Wisconsin. Mrs. Watson was one of the first women to arrive on this end of the island, and through long association, her absence from the island was a regrettable loss. We are glad, however, that the charms of the South Seas called her back to our shores.

Days come and go and when added up we are surprised to find that eighteen months have passed. Mr. Bozardt wasn't so surprised when the day arrived as he had already planned a good vacation in all its detail. We are sorry to say "Good-bye" to our old friends, but when we do say it, we always send along with them our sincere wishes for luck and happiness.

The Engineering Department welcomes the return of "Bill" Johnson to the fold. When he left a few weeks ago, he claimed to be the most consistent growler in that Department. But with his wife standing along side him at the rail of the "William Green," Aruba looked like home sweet home. Not a complaint from him now.

Mr. and Mrs. C. C. Rose had as their guests Sunday Mr. and Mrs. William Rinehart and daughter, who are enroute from Venezuela to the United States.

Mr. Rinehart is Field Superintendent at Legunillas for the Lago Company. The Ross' guests left on the "FREDERICK K. LANE" FOR THE STATES to spend a two months vacation.

As we write up this section of the PAN-ARUBAN, a rather amusing incident which occurred last January comes to mind. One evening about 5 o'clock, as I was on my way home, the then familiar cry of "Dynamite" was heard. This was a warning that blasting was about to commence in the vicinity. Naturally I walked over under cover of one of the Kellogg Bunk Houses. Waiting for the explosion to occur, I noticed "Ike" Cohen, our Stationery Clerk, posed to take a snap-shot of the blast. Suddenly and unexpectedly "BANG!" rent the air. Ike immediately dropped his camera and scuttled to safety by my side. Cohen claims that the negative is an excellent reproduction of a pyramid standing on its head.

We say "Good-bye" to some and fate has destined that we shall never meet again. For others Aruba holds more charm than we usually admit. Anyway Slim Reid either has a vital craving for our coral shores or he has beat fate at her own game. Slim returned looking a little huskier than when he left, a fact which he accounts for by saying that there is still a country by the name of the United States where young men can lead gentleman' lives whether they prefer blondes or not.

The PAN-ARUBAN says "Hello" and "welcome" to recent Pan-Aruba arrivals. Those who recently set foot on our tropical isle are:

Mr. and Mrs. Hubert Henley arrived in Aruba Wednesday on the S. M. SPALDING. The Henleys are among the very first to take a honeymoon on a tanker. Henley says the experiment is a most successful one, and heartily recommends it. He says "Even a bride-groom can get 'oiled' on a tanker with no ill effects."

This happy young couple will be at home to their many friends at Bungalow 104, Bird House Row. Incidentally the bride and groom found their little nest cleverly decorated upon their arrival here--a quartette of interior decorators being responsible for the trimmings and timely placards, which were artistically (?) placed about the house. The signs contained much good advice for the newly weds--all given by these four bachelors, who, after all are just the proper parties to advise young married couples.

The new Fall Telephone Directory has just been issued. A unique issue it is, with no Taxi or Moving Van ads to fill the back cover. And there is no Long Distance section.

PROCEEDS OF SEPTEMBER 28th DANCE TO AID SCHOOL FUND

The Civic Social Club of Aruba announces that it will present its second entertainment and dance on Saturday evening, September 28th, at 8:00 P.M. It will be remembered that the last dance sponsored by the Club was a big success, and every one present had a big time.

The Club promises a surprise in the form of entertainment, so don't miss this big night. Come and enjoy yourselves and you may feel that your money is well spent. The entire proceeds are to be turned over to the School Fund.

The regular meeting of the Bridge Club which was scheduled for Wednesday night, was postponed until Sept. 25th, out of respect to the memory of Robert Nye, one of the members of the Club.

TIME RIPE FOR HAND BALL TOURNEY

At the present time the two hand ball courts are being used at most any hour of the day, and they have been crowded for several days past from 4 P.M. to absolute darkness. Many of the lovers of this game have asked the writer to arrange an elimination tourney with possibly both singles and doubles competition. There has also been a call for lights which would permit night playing. These are things, however, which are the rightful function of the recently formed Athletic Association and will no doubt be taken care of as soon as the organization is perfected. There has also been many calls for an elimination doubles tennis tournament—another function of the Athletic Council. We believe it should not be held before the arrival of the new requests which should be here very soon unless the shipment has gone astray. The new Athletic Association wants to give the camp the best Sports Program possible, and the PAN-ARUBAN pledges its support in determining the activities which will be of the most interest to the men.

TENNIS MATCH ON SUNDAY CARD

Representatives of the Aruba Tennis Club and the Pan American Petroleum Corp. will contest in select singles and doubles matches on the Pan Am courts next Sunday, September 22, 1929, at 3 P.M.

TILDEN WINS NATIONAL

William Tilden in the final round of the National Tennis Championship, defeated twenty year old Doeg of Santa Monica. Veteran "Bill" won only after a hard struggle. F.T. Hunter will be the next one to try and match wits and a racket with the old master.

ATHLETICS CINCH AMERICAN LEAGUE TROPHY

Philadelphia cinched the American League bunting by defeating the White Sox 5-2 on Saturday. The Cubs are still out in the lead of National League pennant contenders. The Yankees couldn't win the American League honors now if they won all of their remaining games and the Athletics lost all of theirs. Philadelphia will have a world series to help make up the disappointments of recent years.

James Beattie has declared himself as being tired of bathing - surf bathing, but we notice he is doing a lot of "Wading" of late. Well, James, it is all very well to try and melt the young lady's heart, but we see no reason for burning up the parlor sofa in doing so. The flames attracted neighbors, Doc Case and others, who put out the conflagration. No se fuma, Senor, before the fond buenos noches.

Dr. L. C. J. Nunes entertained several of his friends at a party Tuesday evening. Among those present were Capt. and Mrs. Overbeck and Miss Stile, the new member of our Hospital Staff. Dancing and refreshments made for a very enjoyable evening, which brings back memories of the good times had at Dr. Nunes parties when the Refinery construction was just beginning.

How careful one must be about rumors. Things are not always what they seem, and before jumping to conclusions, it behooves us to be certain we fully understand what we are hearing. For instance, this week it was reported that there were numerous corporations being started here. Did they mean rival corporations of the Pan Am? Investigation proved they did not, the "corporations" referred to being the rather staid propositions which some of our individuals are developing since they came here. A complete list of these individuals is being carefully guarded in the PAN-AMERICAN Office.

Col. Charles A. Lindberg returned to New York on his loaned record-breaking Lockheed plane, which he borrowed from Captain Hawkes. Lindy set a speed record for the 905 miles from St. Louis to New York in five hours and twenty one minutes, beating Capt. Hawkes' previous record by three minutes.

The Chinese and the Russians are still taking pot shots at each other. If they don't cut out this shooting at one another, they are liable to kill someone and then there will be a war.

Lindy is to inaugurate a new air and mail service which will cover the route of his former goodwill trip thru Central America. He left Miami, Fla. on Sept. 20th accompanied by Mrs. Lindberg. The trip will cover a distance of 7,000 miles and will include sixteen nations.

The Twaer Bell at the City Hall of Baltimore tolled 200 times on Thursday Sept. 12th in celebration of Baltimore's completion of its second century of existence.

John Reese of Broken Bow, Neb., 84 years old and Commander in Chief of the G.A.R. went on an airplane ride with Colonel Lindberg.

Latest cable advice is that Louis "Bull" Montana of moving picture fame and former well known wrestler, is to be married soon to Miss Mary Paulson. In this instance, Mary has a "Bull" instead of the conventional lamb.

Huge crowds lined the approach to Victoria Station in London on Sept. 14th to welcome back the troops returning to England from the Rhineland. This was the first movement of troops after orders for evacuating the occupied territory in Germany.

A new world's altitude record for tri-motored airplanes was claimed by Jack Frye and Paul Ritcher when they landed at Los Angeles on September 14th. After checking their instruments, they announced that an altitude of 22,300 had been attained.

Failure of the Justice Department to transmit to President Hoover pardon petitions from Harry F. Sinclair and his associate H. Mason Dwy, has led to the inference that no action will be taken and that the two men will have to serve out their entire sentence in the District of Columbia Jail.

Lt. A. D. Kramer of the United States Army defeated 1,368 riflemen in the National Industrial Rifle Championships completing the first three courses with a score of 138 out of a possible 150.

The Stinson-Detroit endurance plane, named the "BUFFALO EVENING NEWS" and piloted by Jack Little and Merle Maltrop, passed its 105th hour in the air at 11:00 P.M. September 14th at Buffalo, N.Y. The plane is endeavoring to beat the St. Louis "ROBINS" record of 420 hours.

We wish them luck, but they have a long way to go before they beat the record.

The name "Bachelors Quarters" carries with it a sort of unwritten "No Admission" sign for the female sex. Although the boys who live there may have no fair callers, they get practically the same effect by having talking machines. And a couple of the more ingenious members of the Bachelor Quarters have supplied themselves with parrots. That makes the illusion a perfect one.

sults will require the cooperation of every man in the plant, all of whom are members of the association.

Mr. Clague then called upon Mr. Cooke to address the meeting, and we were favored with a splendid though brief talk. It is lamentable that every Pan American employee could not have heard Mr. Cooke's straight-from-the-shoulder statements.

He emphasized the fact that the Company is in the oil business first and last; that while they are willing and anxious to help the employees with every legitimate enterprise, they could not do it all; that the employees must act first in matters which help to make Aruba a better place in which to live. Mr. Cooke told the men of the club house which is to be built, and its intended purpose; that the Company would erect the building, probably install moving picture projectors, then turn it over entirely to the employees to make of it what they will.

Mr. Cooke then gave us a remarkable insight into the start of this Refinery; how he and other officials of the Company had looked over this part of the world for a Refinery site and finally decided upon Aruba, visualizing from the top of Lago's water tower the rows of stills and refinery equipment, the village to the East and a busy harbor inside the reef; how these visions were put on paper and the work pushed forward until the picture has become the reality.

By the absence of a greater number of men we lost the opportunity of hearing Mr. Cooke tell us from his position of full knowledge of the scope of this great combination of Oil Companies. We hope that some day we may be favored with such a talk. The few minutes that Mr. Cooke gave us were vastly interesting and absorbing, and we wish to express publicly the appreciation of all those who heard him.

Dr. Holland, who had previously handled the difficult part of the meeting, was then called upon to talk to us, and to the delight of those present assured us that he was back of us in everything legitimate that was tried; that he would try to get what the men wanted, even if it meant a kick in the pants for him. Dr. Holland expressed the belief that we would soon have more tennis courts near the Bachelor Quarters and more hand-ball courts; that the golf course might soon be a reality; and that, with the clubhouse combined with all these others, the men will find the recreation and amusement which is so necessary and desirable.

It is a shame that such a meeting had to adjourn and every man present was reluctant to leave, but they went with the final request of the President in their minds--that they would go out as Salesmen to sell to the Camp the idea of independent employee recreation and entertainment and of cooperation with the men chosen to direct such activities.

We say, "So be it."

FOLLOWING THE HOUNDS
BY THE PARROT

Aruba offers a wide field of amusement to anyone with a vivid imagination. Everybody enjoyed the many features of the Queen's birthday, and the Burro Polo that took place on the next day was most excellent. But here is another form of recreation that could be worked up for the benefit of sportsmen.

Hunting has usually a strong appeal and the essential elements for a good hunt are right under our hand; the game, the mounts, the hounds.

The residential section of the concession abounds in dogs. Trouble, Button and their little brothers and sisters have every requirement for making good hunting dogs. They have enough Bull blood in the to be devoid of scent, so that the trail of the game can be mixed time and again and afford mistakes, wrong trails and many excitements. They have biting and they are fast, so that they can easily become lost. Anyone with hunting experience knows that the best part of the sport is losing one's hounds and patiently awaiting their return.

Last but not least, the essentials of a hunt are the red coats and the horns. A saxophone and a couple of trumpets would provide charming music. Red coats can be arranged easily. Everybody has an old mutton-skin coat, that would look striking after a dip in either red lead paint or mercurochrome.

OF THE
SHEEP HUNTING

The hunt will start at the stadium; the game held aside until the propitious moment. The master of the hounds, his saxophone to his lips, will hold in leash the barking, yawning, growling pack of hounds. The elegant riders and fair ladies, in their picturesque brilliant hunting uniforms will keep their mounts brancing. The signal will be given; the flock will start at a man—blindly. Unleashed, the hounds will follow. It will be wise to have a circle of trucks in readiness; there being but two essential moments when the hunters should be mounted; the start and the finish. It might be convenient to have adequate modes of transportation to carry both burros and riders, to any end of the island, where the game will choose to surrender.

Mounts would be our sympathetic, energetic, spirited burros. I have seen one or two make a few trotting steps when urged repeatedly. With the help of the following method, I can certify that a burro will run—perhaps not for long—but if my method is applied, the animal will assuredly make one forward dash. Give the beast a glass of absinthe and water. It is cooling, and burros like it. They will lick up the glass and sponoon greedily and afterwards they will run for their lives. An oat diet would help, of course, and corn would be better than cactus.

For game the goats are just the thing. They are as untamed, belligerent and bold as stags and moose. Attracting one flock would provide sport for everybody. Each hunter could concentrate on one or more goats; the dogs would go wild. To be assured of some game for the finish three or four goats ought to be shackled properly for other-wise, I am afraid, the whole flock would disperse before the burros had even started or they would carry the hands over impassable cliffs or to the top of Hoodberg.

Let us, and
